CAPT. HAINS'S STORY OF HIS WIFE'S CONFESSION TOLD BY A WITNESS

Old Friend of Brothers Tells Tale
Upon Which the Defense Bases
Hopes of Proving the Captain's Insanity.

BELIEVED HIM IRRATIONAL
BEFORE DAY OF SHOOTING

Gen Hains Insisted on an Investigation of Rumors After Captain's Suspicions Had Been Allayed by Wife, Chester
Reid Testifies

Although the jury that is trying Thornton Jenkins Hains for murder at Flushing didn't hear much to-day about the actual facts of the death of William E. Annis last August at the Bayside Yacht Club, it did hear a good deal about the alleged betrayal of Peter Hains's wife by the man Peter Hains killed.

Under the guise of having a close friend of the Hains family tell of Capt. Peter Hains's alleged insanity last summer after his wife's alleged confession, the lawyers for the defense got upon the record in a graphic and effective fashion the story of the whole of that sordid, grimy, army post intrigue. The witness who gave this testimony was a tall, mannerly young Southerner, Chester Reid, a brother of the Princess Rospigliosi, of Rome, and a grandson of S. C. Reid, a noted Kentucky sea fighter, who commanded the privateer Armstrong at the battle of Fayal, in the Azores. Darrin scored for the State when in exhaustive cross-examination he drew from Reid that Capt. Hains had a perfectly clear perception of his domestic troubles and could and did converse rationally on many topics while reverting, from time to time, to the admissions made by his wife.

It also developed in the cross-examination that, after Capt. Hains dismissed from his mind the suspicions aroused by the reports he heard, Gen. Hains insisted that they be investigated, and this led to the final rupture.

Darrin took the greater part of the day in cross-examining Reid. During all of it Mr. White, special prosecutor, remained inactive. He seemed to take only slight interest in the proceedings and this gave color to the rumor that was circulated that the District Attorney and his hired counsel had some words over the conduct of the case.

The story was that the District Attorney was dissatisfied with Mr. White's examination of witnesses at yesterday's session, especially that of James Tierney. It was said that there occurred an open breach between them in the hallway outside the courtroom this morning before the Judge took his seat.

Reid, a tall young man with lots of curly hair, began his testimony by saying he was an inspector of buildings at the United States Normal Training Station, stationed at North Chicago, but claiming New York as his legal residence.

"Looking After Connie."

"I have known the Hains family all my life," said Mr. Reid. "We always spoke of Peter Hains as 'Connie.' I came back on June 23 of this year from Spain, where I had been on a six months leave of absence. I landed at Boston, came to New York the same day and next day I went to Bensonhurst to see Thornton Hains. I found he had moved to Bay Ridge and next morning, that being June 25, I went to Bay Ridge and found his house. About 11 o'clock Thornton Hains and Peter Hains came to the house, they having been away, and I had a conversation with Thornton."

Justice Crane decided that any testimony from the witness regarding Thornton's claims of having been asked to guard Peter would be incompetent. However, Mr. McIntyre qualified his line of questioning, and the young inspector was permitted to go on.

"Thornton said he was very glad to see me, because he had been under a severe strain. He said, 'I am looking after Connie.' I stayed there from June 25 to July 9, and I saw Capt. Hains constantly, every day, and talked with him often at great length. On the first day I saw him he was very nervous and spoke disconnectedly.

Capt. Hains's Story.

"He said to me, 'I suppose you've heard of my trouble. My wife has been

EXPLOSION SHOWERS CATS AND DOGS UPON TWO MEN

Gas Tank of S. P. C. A. Execution Plant in Harlem Blows Up
With Full Charge of Doomed Animals, and Attendants Are Injured.

It literally rained cats and dogs in Harlem this afternoon, when something went wrong with the large gas tank used to apply gas to condemned animals at One Hundred and Second street and East River by the S. P. C. A., and caused an explosion.

Harold Dunleavy, the head keeper of the shelter for doomed cats and dogs, had a large number of both in the tank when, accompanied by Abraham Reid, another keeper, he went to see if all the cats had their rings snuffed out.

As Dunleavy was about to unlock the door of the tank a terrific explosion hurled the head keeper and his unfortunate assistant back through a partition, and they were followed by a shower of animals—some dead and others just alive.

The building was partially wrecked by the force of the explosion, and it was necessary to call firemen to extinguish the blaze. Dunleavy and Reid were able to make their way out of the burning building, which was fast filling with gas, and Dr. Moeckle, of the Harlem Hospital, was summoned to attend to their injuries.

Reid was only slightly bruised, but Dunleavy, who was nearest the tank, was badly burned about the face and hands. He was removed to the Harlem Hospital.

Justice B. H. Wallenhorst, Sitting at the Trial of William Hapwood at Ellicott City, Md., and the Prisoner
Among Victims of the Accident.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29.—The second floor of a two-story building at Ellicott city, Md., fell through this afternoon during the hearing before Justice B. H. Wallenhorst of William Hapwood, a negro, charged with murderous assault. It is estimated that about fifteen persons have broken legs and arms.

So far as could be learned at this time no deaths resulted, but a number of the injured are said to be in a serious condition.

Among those hurt besides the Justice and prisoner are ex-Judge J. T. Rogers, State's Attorney, Martin Burke, Col. William S. Powell, William Hall, newspaper reporter, and Charles Jones.

The trial had only just begun when the floor weakened, and with no other warning than a slight creaking fell through. The people in the room were thrown into a struggling mass, those who were on the outside jumping through windows to the ground or clutched a remaining upright in an effort to support themselves.

COGGEY NOT OUT YET.

John V. Coggey, Commissioner of Corrections, had not responded to Mayor McMillan's request for his resignation at the time the Mayor left his office this afternoon.

Inquiries at the office of the Commissioner elicited the information that he had not been at his desk and would not be there during the day.

It is not believed, however, that he will refuse to accede to the Mayor's request. Frank J. Lantry and John P. McMillan are spoken of as probable appointees after Coggey resigns.

In Messina Alone 50,000 Are Reported Killed, Regio's Fatalities Are Declared Heavy. While Every City and Town Reports Victims.

KING AND QUEEN HURRY TO SUFFERERS AND POPE AIDS.

Horror Grows as Late Reports Are Received and Full Extent of Disaster Can Only Be Estimated—Flooded Ravines Vandalized and Ruined Cities.

ROME, Dec. 29.—The number of victims in the earthquake that devastated Sicily and Calabria is now at 100,000. This includes the killed and injured. The estimate is based on reports received late today from the various districts and is conservative. In Messina alone 50,000 persons are reported dead. Reports of heavy loss of life are coming in every hour from city and town and nearly every village in the stricken zone, and the story in its detail has only begun to be told. The Calabria provinces the number of killed is between 60,000 and 70,000. The horror grows as further reports come in.

The earthquake struck city after city and obliterated smaller towns and villages without number. Then a tidal wave swept along the Straits of Messina and added to the horror, drowning the people in their helplessness and panic. Many broke out in the devastated zone and countless numbers of wounded men, women and children were burned to death.

The horror and destruction of this disaster is probably more than that of any earthquake in Italy since 1783, when 40,000 persons perished at Messina alone.

It is feared that hundreds of thousands of them Americans, or among the dead and anxious inquiries are being made here for mutual ones. Ambassador Corti has begun a search for Ambrose Cheney, Connecticut, the American Consul, and Joseph H. Pierce, the American Vice-Consul at Messina, who may have perished.

Thousands of people are homeless and suffering at every point of the earthquake zone and a hundreds of injured are without medical care. The Government is rushing relief as fast as possible, while survivors are being brought in on special trains. The property damage cannot be estimated. It will run into hundreds of millions.

Promises of financial aid and messages of sympathy are being received from every nation, notably the United States. President Roosevelt being one of the first to proffer help. Warships at different nations are also hurrying here to be of assistance.

KING, QUEEN AND POPE AID.

King Emmanuel was quick to act in the dire emergency and to-day started for the earthquake zone to personally direct the work of relief. He was accompanied by Queen Helena, who insisted on going to a scene of suffering to give her aid.

Pope Pius was equally energetic and immediately gave $200,000, head a subscription list for the sufferers. In addition the Pope will apply to Catholics of the whole world to contribute money. King Emmanuel will give $400,000 to the relief fund of the nation.

As communication is established the situation grows more and more horrors are added hourly.

An indirect report has been received from Reggio, a town of 50,000 people in Calabria, adding that only a few thousand of the entire population escaped death or injury. Not a word, however, has been received direct from that place and the story is considered dubious. The province in which the city of Reggio is situated suffered terribly. Regio's only eight miles from Messina, but on the opposite side of the strait, wrought by the earthquake that would have been almost certain to be a danger would have been the disaster to Reggio with news of the extent of the disaster.
